

Career and Technical Education Instructional Program Information

) The instructional program prepares the students to collect, write, edit and present the news utilizing a variety of mediums i.e. newspaper, magazine, yearbook, blog, etc. Journalism is a form of writing that tells people about the things that really happened, but that they might not have known about already. People who write journalism are called "Journalists". They might work for newspapers, magazines, websites, TV or Radio. Journalists gather, analyze and disseminate socially relevant information in a consistent, transparent and honest way. An integrated approach to teaching and learning is used to ensure that students are able to apply their knowledge and skills in a real-world context.
